Your Trail Needs You!

The 50-mile-long Little Miami State Park trail forms the southern end of the Ohio to Erie Trail, which runs 330 miles from Cincinnati to Cleveland. But our trail's survival depends on your support.

littlemiamistatepark.org

From Terrace Park to Xenia, our scenic trail is a State Park which celebrated its 40th anniversary in 2019. It comprises the first 50 miles of the Little Miami Scenic Trail, which continues north to Springfield for a total of 183 miles.

Who takes care of the trail?

This state park portion of the trail is maintained by a partnership between the State of Ohio and The Friends of the Little Miami State Park—a non-profit organization formed in 2009 dedicated to working with the State of Ohio to maintain and improve the Park. That partnership between public and private has a proven track record—in 2017 the trail logged 1.3 million visits.

What do you want from me?

Give time: Volunteer as an individual or a group for trail work, planting trees, publicity, filling a kiosk, or other tasks. We'll appreciate whatever time you can give—there are no minimum requirements for volunteer hours. We also offer flexible community service opportunities for students, businesses, church and civic organizations. You can choose any section of the trail to work on or co-adopt.

Give money: All gifts are tax deductible, and we appreciate any size donation. You can become a supporting member for only $20 per year. Tell us about sources of funds such as grants for trail maintenance and improvements. Visit littlemiamistatepark.org to join or donate.

What does FLMSF do for the trail?

- Remove downed trees and limbs
- Clear lines of sight and improve safety at intersections
- Fill cracks
- Grind down bumps
- Clear berms
- Paint mile markers and stop signs on the trail
- Provide port-a-lets so restrooms are no more than 5 miles apart year-round
- Restore natural beauty and native vegetation
- Repair trail fences
- Clear leaves, twigs, debris
- Provide informative kiosks, install benches
- And lots more!

Why should I trust FLMSF with my money or time?

FLMSF has zero paid positions — everyone is a volunteer. We rent no office space and minimize services we must pay for, so donated funds stretch farther in maintaining and improving the trail. Our volunteers are passionate trail users, and give thousands of effort hours in support of the trail each year. FLMSF conforms to the highest industry standards applied to non-profits, making it well qualified for grant consideration and for your confidence.
